THE MESSAGE.

The President's message is an admirable State paper dealing with all questions of great interest to the country, and generally making recommendations and suggestions that will find an echo in the hearts of the American people. The reference to silver is not to our taste, and indicates that the President is not yet ready to sign a free coinage bill. We doubt, however, if he would veto such a bill if sent to him by Congress, and we earnestly hope that this Congress will pass the one measure of all so greatly needed, in which event we think Mr. Harrison would lead it Executive sanction. The President is sound on the tariff, and time will prove that the principles of the McKinley bill are as sound as an American dollar. The general tone of the entire message is thoroughly Republican, the points are right and will prevail, and the President has done himself credit by plainly telling the truth.

THE QUEEN OFFENDED.

There is a story current that the Queen and Prince of Wales are at odds because the Queen objected to the presence of a certain American lady at a recent levee held by the Prince as representative of his mother. When she took him to task for the woman's presence, he invited the woman's husband to dine with him, and the Queen has been still further offended.

CURRENCY.

No Increase to Be Recommended by Secretary Windom.

The Commercial Bulletin's Washington special says: Windom will not recommend in his annual report any plan for increasing the volume of the currency. The President favors the Secretary's scheme of interconvertible bonds, but thinks it better to leave the subject untouched for the present and leave Congress to discover itself the need for more money. Their idea is that after the session has lasted long enough to make it evident something must be done to increase the volume of currency, bills shall be introduced by leading Republicans of both Houses embodying the scheme of interconvertible bonds. If the situation seems favorable the President can then issue a message referring to the necessity of a larger circulating medium and intimating that the bills pending embody his idea. It is hoped with this endorsement and approval of the scheme which Windom would give before the committees of the two Houses, the bill for interconvertible bonds would probably pass.

The Irish Question.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A meeting of the Irish members of the Commons to consider what action the Nationalist party shall take regarding the leadership, took place at noon. Parnell was the first to arrive, and he took the chair and called the meeting to order. Telegrams from the delegates in the United States and from Archbishop Croke were read.

It is said the question of expelling Parnell from membership in the National Liberal Club will shortly be brought before a committee of that organization.

Parnell, on leaving his room, said to an Irish reporter: "Tell them I will fight to the end."

Parnell looked pale, but chatted cheerfully with his friends. He took no part in the proceedings beyond stating that a meeting had been called in accordance with the decision reached by the party on Friday last.

The proceedings were of the stormiest character. Parnell's supporters strove hard to secure another adjournment, urging that the meeting to decide the question of leadership of the Irish party should be held in Dublin.

Sexton protested against an adjournment. A majority of the party, he declared, decided to keep the leadership unaltered and unaltered. Sexton's remarks were frequently interrupted by tremendous cheering from Parnell's opponents, who comprised a majority of those present.

Redmond made a passionate appeal to the members to pause before they deposited from his rightful position the leader of the Irish nation, who by his unparalleled service has earned the gratitude of the Irish people.

The special Parnell meeting remained in session until 6 o'clock, when it adjourned for an hour.

The Gazette has a habit of nominating a host of citizens for office prior to any election. It speaks in time for delegates to the Constitutional Convention. But it should remember that Senator Foley was elected State Senator from Washoe at the last general election.

The Gazette and Appeal are "kicking" because of the smallness of their checks from the Republican State Central Committee. They should state the amount, and then the people can judge whether or not they were poorly paid.

The Democrats seem to be very much afraid the Constitutional Convention will be called. It is gratifying to know that the salvation of the State does not depend upon the Democratic minority.

The Gazette generally knows more about the doings and business of others than it would know about its own if it attended to its own business.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

AN ABLE PAPER FROM PRESIDENT HARRISON UPON THE CONDITION OF THE GOVERNMENT.

The Country Congratulated Upon Its General Prosperity—The Different National Issues Discussed.

WASHINGTON, December 1.—Senate and House of Representatives: "Vast and increasing business of Government has been transacted by the several departments during the year with faithfulness, energy and success. Revenues amounting to about four hundred and fifty million dollars have been collected and disbursed without revealing a single case of delinquency or embezzlement."

Of the Pan American Conference the President says: "This important convocation makes a most interesting and continental epoch in the history of the Western Hemisphere. The killing of General Barandua on board the Pacific Mail steamer Acapulco, while anchored in transit in the port of San Jose de Guatemala, demanded careful inquiry. The counsel of the Representatives of the United States was sought to effect his capture. The captain refused to give up his passenger without a written order from the U. S. Minister. The latter forwarded the desired letter on condition that General Barandua's life should be spared. General Barandua resisted capture and was killed. It being evident that Minister Mizner had exceeded the bounds of his authority in intervening in compliance with demands of Guatemalan authorities."

In violation of precedent this Government was constrained to disavow Mr. Mizner's act and recall him from his post. The Nicaragua canal project is making a most encouraging progress. Our relations with China have been the subject of much correspondence. Proposals have been made to Mexico and Great Britain to consider the regulation of the passage of Chinese laborers across our southern and northern frontiers.

The difference between the United States and Great Britain touching the fur seal question in Behring sea, is not yet adjusted as will be seen by the correspondence which will soon be put before Congress. It is sincerely hoped that before the opening of another sealing season some arrangement may be effected which will assure to the United States the property right derived from Russia which was not disregarded by any nation for more than thirty years preceding the outbreak of the present trouble.

Questions involved in the revision of the treaty relations between Japan are grave and delicate and it is to be hoped that the present friendly relations between Japan and the United States will not be affected. Friendship between our country and Mexico has never been more congenial than now. The Mexican railway system will be enhanced in a degree almost impossible to forecast if it should become a link in the projected inter-continental railway. I recommend that our mission to the city of Mexico be renewed to first-class.

Regarding reciprocity the President says: "Special arrangements in regard to commerce based upon the reciprocity provision of the recent Tariff Act would operate most beneficially for the United States and Spain."

SILVER.

Some months further trial will be necessary to determine the permanent effect of recent legislation on silver values, but it is gratifying to know that increased circulation has exerted a most beneficial influence upon business. Our very large supply of gold will, if not lost by impulsive legislation in the supposed interests of silver, give us position of advantage in promoting a permanent and safe international agreement for the free use of silver as a coin metal.

The President concurs in the recommendations of the Secretary of War that adequate and regular appropriations be continued for coast defense works and ordnance. Encouragement that has been extended to the militia should be continued and enlarged.

Speaking of naturalization laws, the President says: "I beg to renew the recommendation that the laws be so amended as to require more full and searching inquiry to all facts necessary to naturalization before any certificates are granted. It certainly is not too much to require that an application for American citizenship shall be heard with as much care, and recorded with as much formality as are given cases involving the priciest property rights."

The construction and equipment of new ships for the navy has made satisfactory progress. It is a source of congratulation that the anticipated influence of these modern vessels upon the esprit de corps of officers and seamen has been fully realized. Confidence and pride in the ship, among the crew, are equivalent to a second battery. The policy outlined in the last annual message in relation to the patenting of lands to settlers upon the public domain, has been carried out in the administration of the Land Office. The purpose has been to perfect the title of honest settlers with such promptness that the value of entry might not be swallowed up by the expense and extortions to which a delay subjected the claimant. The examination and adjudication of pension claims have, by reason of improved methods, been more rapid than ever before. There is no economy to the government while there is such hardship and injustice to soldiers.

MORMONISM.

The increasing number and influence of the non-Mormon population in Utah are observed with satisfaction. The recent letter of the President of the Mormon Church, in which he advised his people to refrain from breaking the laws of the land, has attracted much attention, and it is hoped that its influence will be beneficial. But the fact should not be overlooked that the doctrine of the Church, that polygamous marriages are rightful, remains unchanged. President Woodruff does not renounce the doctrine, but refrains from teaching it and advises against the practice of it, because the law is against it. Now it is quite time that law should not attempt to deal with faith or belief of any one, but it is quite another thing and the only safe thing is to deal with the Territory of Utah so that those who believe polygamy to be rightful shall not have power to make it lawful.

PUBLIC BUILDING BILLS, ETC.

The President refers to his veto of several bills for the erection of public buildings on the ground appropriation which were too large and recommended thorough investigation and wise economy in all those cases. Referring to the report of the Secretary of Agriculture, the President notices very substantial improvement during the year in market prices of farm products, especially wheat, corn, oats and barley. Export trade in live animals, fowls and dairy products has largely increased.

On the subject of beet sugar industry, the President says it has already passed the experimental stage and is a complete commercial success. The area over which it is cultivated is very large and another field of great value is thus offered to the farmer. The civil service law is said to have been executed with fidelity and impartiality. The President congratulates Congress and the country upon the passage at the first session of the Fifty-first Congress of an unusual number of laws of very high importance, and says that the results of this legislation will be the quickening and enlargement of our manufacturing industries, larger and better markets for our breadstuffs and provisions both at home and abroad; more constant employment and better wages for our working people, and an increased supply of safe currency for the transaction of business. The President further says: "I do not doubt that some of these measures were enacted at so late a period that their beneficial effects upon commerce which were in the contemplation of Congress, have as yet but partially manifested themselves. For many years prior to 1898 the merchandise balances had been largely in our favor, but during that year and the year following they turned against us. It is very gratifying to know that the last fiscal year shows a balance in our favor of sixty-eight million dollars."

The bank clearings show that the increase in the volume of business was very general throughout the country during the past year, and that failures were greatly reduced in number.

The President states that the value of exports of domestic merchandise during last year exceeded that of the preceding year by $115,000,000 and has been exceeded but once in our history. One hundred million of this excess was in agricultural products. The depression in prices of agricultural products has been greatly relieved and a buoyant, hopeful feeling is beginning to be felt.

THE TARIFF.

On the subject of the tariff bill adopted by the present Congress the President says that owing to its recent passage its permanent effect upon trade and prices is still largely a matter of conjecture. He notes that the advance in prices in certain articles which was hastily ascribed to the tariff bill, was due to other causes, among which he mentions the silver bill, which gave upward tendency to trade. On this subject the President further says that it would be neither wise nor just to reopen the subject of tariff revision until the present law has had a fair trial. Every tariff schedule is subject to objections. No bill was ever framed that in all its rates and classifications has had the full approval of even a party caucus. Such bills are always the result of compromise. But in its general scope and effect, the present law will justify the support of those who believe that American legislation should preserve and defend American trade and wages. Experience will correct misinformation as to terms of the act that has been so widely disseminated at home and abroad. Already reports of Custom Houses show that the supposed prohibitory effect of the legislation is justified. Imports at New York for the first three weeks of November were nearly 8 per cent greater than for the same period in '89 and 29 per cent greater than in '88. The President says: "I confidently believe that under the present law we shall secure a larger and more profitable participation in foreign trade than we have ever enjoyed and that we shall recover a proportionate participation in the ocean carrying trade of the world." Foreign enemies may well be rejected as their interests are diametrically opposed to ours, and while not desiring to injure other nations, we must first look out for our own people.

The Executive has constantly kept in mind the duty of using every means in his power to extend and develop foreign markets for our products, especially farm products. We are under no disadvantage in any foreign market, save that we pay better wages than are paid elsewhere, better abstractly and better relatively to the cost of living. Still there is a largely increased foreign trade open to us without bartering our home market of such products as our people can supply.

RECIPROCIITY.

The reciprocity clause of the tariff act wisely and in effect opens the way to secure large reciprocal trade in exchange for the free admission to our ports of certain products. The right of independent nations to make reciprocal trade concessions is well established and does not impair either country due to the other power, or what is known as a favored nation clause so generally found in commercial treaties. What is given to one for an adequate agreed consideration cannot be claimed by another freely. The state of the revenue was such that we could dispense with any import duties upon coffee, tea, hides and lower grades of sugar and molasses. That large advantages resulting to countries producing and exporting these articles by placing them on the free list entitled us to expect fair returns in the way of customs concessions upon articles exported by us to them, was so obvious that to have gratuitously abandoned this opportunity to enlarge our trade would have been unpardonable. This method expresses in advance the consent of Congress to reciprocity arrangements affecting these products, which otherwise must have been delayed until each treaty was ratified by the Senate and the necessary legislation enacted by Congress.

Experience has shown that some treaties toward reciprocal trade have failed to secure the two-thirds vote of the Senate for ratification and others which have passed that stage have for years awaited the concurrence of the House and Senate in such modifications of our revenue law as were necessary to give effect to their provisions. Indications thus far given are very hopeful of early and favorable action by countries from which we receive our large imports of coffee and sugar, and it is confidently believed that if steamer communication with these countries can be promptly improved and enlarged, next year will show a most gratifying increase in our exports of breadstuffs and provisions as well as some important lines of manufactured goods.

STEAMSHIP LINES.

The recommendation contained in the last annual message in relation to development of American steamship lines is urged again. Steamships carrying mails and passengers steadily and frequently is the first condition of foreign trade. It gives to sailing vessels such cargoes as are not urgent or perishable and indirectly promotes that important adjunct of commerce. There is now both in this country and in nations of Central and South America, confidence as to an increased trade that will give double value to your prompt action upon this question. Increased subsidy to Oceanic Steamship company for carrying mails between San Francisco and Australia urged, if we are not unwilling to see this important steamship line withdrawn, or continued with Vancouver substituted for San Francisco, as the American terminal. Congress should empower the Postmaster General to offer increased subsidy for the transportation of this important mail. The south and gulf ports occupy very favored positions for trade with South American States. Steamship lines with connection with their railway system before continuous line of railway can be built.

THE INTER-CONTINENTAL RAILROAD.

The National American Conference recommended building such connecting line, and the President recommends that the charter for such road be granted, but that it do not include and guarantee safe deposit privileges, or authorize more branches in the United States than are strictly necessary. Prompt action should be taken in this matter so that new reciprocal trade be relieved from tribute exacted by transacting it through Europe. The bill for the relief of the Supreme Court is now in a position where final action can easily be taken. The salaries of District Judges should be readjusted so that they may not receive less than $5,000 per annum.

It is earnestly hoped that this Congress will put an end to the delay which has attended the settlement of disputes as to title-bearing settlers and claimants under Spanish and Mexican land grants. The enactment of a National Bankruptcy law is still regarded as very desirable. Uniform rules should be provided for the administration of affairs of insolvent debtors. Recommendations are also renewed in favor of legislation affording just copyright protection for foreign authors on a footing of reciprocal advantage for authors abroad. It may still be possible for this Congress to inaugurate by suitable legislation a movement looking to the uniformity and increased safety in the use of couplers and brakes upon freight trains engaged in inter-state commerce.

WATER STORAGE.

The subject of conservative and equal distribution of water supply of arid regions has not yet been put upon a satisfactory and permanent basis. The urgency of the subject grows out of the danger that the water supply and sites for necessary catch basins may fall into the hands of individuals or private corporations. All unappropriated water sources and all necessary reservoirs should be held by the Government for the equal use at fair rates of homestead settlers who will eventually take up these lands. The United States should not undertake the construction of dams or canals, but should limit the work to such surveys and observations as will determine the water supply of both surface and subterranean areas capable of irrigation, and the use of the storage capacity of reservoirs. The use of water and reservoir sites might be granted to respective States or Territories or to individuals or associations on condition that necessary works be constructed and water furnished at fair rates without discrimination. It were almost better that these lands should remain arid than those who occupy them should become slaves of unstrained monopolies controlling the essential element of land values and crop results.

FEDERAL TELEGRAPHY.

In regard to postal telegraphy, the President thinks the Government should not own telegraph lines, but might well contract with telegraph companies to transmit communications at specified rates just as it now contracts with railroads to carry mails. He recommends that such laws be passed as will enable the Postoffice Department to test this by practical experiment.

FEDERAL ELECTIONS.

The remainder of the message is devoted to the consideration of necessary reforms in the regulations of elections. The President calls attention to the necessity of a stringent law providing for the Federal supervision of Congressional elections, and says that the probable effectiveness of such a law is evinced by the character of the opposition that has been made to it. He also says that nothing could be farther from truth than the claim that such a law is a new exercise of federal power and an invasion of the rights of States.

The President points out that a law providing for federal supervision of Congressional elections is already in existence, and has been put into execution by both the great political parties. He also says it is not a question whether we shall have a federal election law, but whether we shall have an effective law, as the present one stops just short of effectiveness. He dwells on the necessity of having every safeguard thrown around the ballot and declares: "Surely there is nothing sectional about this creed. If it should happen that the penalties of laws intend to enforce these rights fall here and not there, it is not because the law is sectional but because, happily, crime is local and not universal, nor should it be forgotten that every law, whether relating to elections or to any other subject, whether enacted by State or by nation, has force behind it."

President Harrison, in closing his message says: "I venture to remind you that the brief time remaining for the consideration of important legislation now awaiting your attention offers no margin for waste. If the present duty is discharged with diligence and courage, the work of the Fifty-first Congress may be confidently submitted to the considerate judgment of the people."

Kalahe, the dusky King of Hawaii, is coming to California, and the California cruiser Charleston is to bring him. Here is an opportunity offering for tuff-hunters to practice, prior to the arrival of the Russian Grand Duke, who will come down upon the State a month later.

NEW TO-DAY.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula. A week from the time she was two months old she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLTON, Naughton, N. J.

Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. Price, 25 cents. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Came.

At the close of the session of the District Court, yesterday afternoon, a number of members of the bar who were present requested Judge Bigelow to remain a few minutes. Hon. G. W. Baker then arose and in a few feeling and eloquent sentences expressed the regrets of the bar that His Honor had presided over the District Court for the last time. He expressed the high regard in which His Honor was held by them, and thanked him for the wise, impartial and equitable manner in which he had ever discharged the duties of the Court. At the close he begged His Honor to accept as a tribute of esteem from the members of the Nevada bar a superb gold-headed cane.

County Commissioners.

The Board of County Commissioners were in session yesterday, and aside from passing the usual monthly bills, transacted the following business:

The petition of citizens of Browns District asking the Board to open a public highway, which shall in its course pass over a portion of the lands of Mrs. Brown was granted, and it being necessary to condemn sufficient of Mrs. Brown's land for that purpose, A. M. Lamb was appointed appraiser on behalf of the county, to act in the matter in conjunction with an appraiser to be appointed by Mrs. Brown.

The Buffalo toll road in the north end of the county was leased to Word & Smith for five years.

The petition to repair the road across the north end of Washoe Lake was rejected, as the repairs asked for were altogether impracticable.

The petition for the construction of a bridge across the river at or near the Marble Works at Verdi was granted, and the necessary steps will be at once taken to get the plans, specifications and bids for the work.

Doctors Lewis and Bargestein were appointed hospital physicians for the next four months.

Relief was granted to the following indigent persons: Mrs. Shackpole, $10; John Bishop, $10; Mrs. Hurley, $10; Mrs. McCann, $10; Rachael Small, $10; Mrs. Brookman, $6; E. D. Rogers and wife, $15; Mrs. Jose, $10.

Painful Accident.

Times-Review: While returning to Jack Creek from town Wednesday evening, when near the Spanish ranch, Mrs. Frank Oliver was thrown from the wagon seat to the ground with such violence that she was rendered insensible for a time. When she regained consciousness she made her way to a Chinese camp in the vicinity where she obtained assistance to reach home, her team having preceded her. A messenger was dispatched to town for a physician, who reports that she is terribly lacerated about the head and face, seventeen stitches being required to bring the parts together. Though severe, the injuries are not considered serious unless erysipelas should supervene.

The Placer Argus kindly remarks: We see by a telegram from Reno, that Gen. Powning has disposed of the NEVADA STATE JOURNAL to E. D. Kelley of the Winnemucca Silver State, and will surrender his control of the JOURNAL December 31st. The STATE JOURNAL has just completed its twentieth year, and is one of the leading papers of Nevada. Gen. Powning has worked his way up from office devil to proprietor and editor, and retires from the JOURNAL with a good generous competence. The General has done more than any other one man to build up and develop Reno and that portion of Nevada. The whole State of Nevada will miss his trenchant pen and active co-operation in the development of the Silver State.

So confident are the manufacturers of Dr. Pierce's Pellets in their ability to cure Chronic Catarrh in the Head, no matter how bad or of how long standing, that they offer in good faith, the above reward, for a case which they cannot cure. Symptoms of Catarrh—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acid; at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, burning in ears, deafness, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; small and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption and end in the grave. By its mild, soothing, antiseptic, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Pierce's Pellets cures the worst case of Catarrh in the Head as it is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal Headache is relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell, or hearing, watering or weak eyes, and impaired memory, when caused by the violence of Catarrh, as they all frequently are. Sold by druggists, at fifty cents per bottle. Manufactured by Dr. J. C. R. W. PIERCE, MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 608 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. Gently Laxative, and non-habit forming. Do not give rise to any bad effects. Do not cause a habit.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue—Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Has no equal in Nevada or California for salubrity of climate, wealth of soil, diversity of products and stability. Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $200,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.
